Aquaria Transcript

by rhyme_likes_words

Summary

Transcript of all narration and dialogue in Aquaria, made to be a reference for myself and other fans. If you're a writer who wants to remember how something went without replaying the games or scouring through a letsplay, this is for you!

Notes

This is the first time I've ever made a transcript. There may be mistakes, bits of narration I missed, or things I could've formatted / described better. Please let me know if you notice any way I could improve this project!

Feel free to copy, repost, and make edits to this transcript! That's encouraged even, I'd love for more people to be able to find and use it. (It's up to you if you want to credit me, I don't feel strongly about it.)

I've organized the transcript in sections based on zone; then at the end I've included lyrics for the songs "Lost to the Waves" and "Fear the Dark" as a bonus.

(I've also posted a version of this transcript to tumblr, which also includes some screenshots of the game. If you want to see that version, here's a link: https://www.tumblr.com/rhyme-rambles/769991087042576384/aquaria-transcript?source=share)

Chapter 1: Act 1

Chapter Summary

Home Waters, Song Cave, Energy Temple

Chapter Notes

In which Naija begins her journey to find answers, and gains the power of destruction

Home Waters

Introduction

[close up on Naija's face]
Naija:
The Verse flows throughout Aquaria…
Through each ripple and wave…
Through every living being…
The Verse binds us all as one.
The Verse binds us, narrator and explorer.
My story will become your own, and yours will become mine.
You will live my life through my eyes…
… And you will learn the truth.

Start

[panning across the starting cave]
Naija:
As far back as I can remember, I came to this place to think.
This cave was my sanctuary.
Here, the Verse was so focused that I could feel it humming in the stones around me.
If I called out in song, the cave and its creatures would dance to my tune.
If I had stayed there, I might have found peace…
But eventually, loneliness… and restlessness… drove me away.

Movement Tutorial

[while swimming through cave with armored fish]
When confronted with a dangerous situation, I was wise to use the full range of my physical abilities to avoid it.
With a powerful thrust of my legs, my webbed feet would propel me forward… …
Leaving my pursuers in my wake.

Shield Song Tutorial

Naija:
As I sang, I could feel the Verse flowing through me…
Certain songs stirred the Verse deeply, causing changes in the surrounding waters.

The first song I had discovered would wrap the verse around me…
… Protecting me from environmental dangers.

Shrouded Figure Appears

[World darkens, shrouded figure appears]
Naija:
In all my memory, every day had been like every other.
If she had not appeared before me in that moment…
… I might have stayed in those waters for the rest of my days …
… Living as a simple creature …
… But I was compelled to follow.

[phantom lady touches Naija's forhead]
[flashes of song cave and energy temple]
[vision of Naija in energy form, navigating past monsters in the dark]
[Phantom lady disapears]
Naija:
The strange form faded before my eyes…
…Perhaps I'd only dreamed her. But I was no longer the same. That vision…
I'd lived as a feral creature, not thinking beyond the simplest desires…
… Until now.
As if from a dream, I awoke to the reality of my existence.
To the fact that I was… alone.
I knew that this world was called Aquaria, and that my name was Naija…
… But I could recall nothing else.
Was I the only one of my kind left?
Was I destined to live out the rest of my days in solitude?
My heart ached for answers…
… in time …
… I would discover far more than I wished to learn …

Entering Home Cave

Naija:
I was enveloped by warm light, as familiarity overwhelmed me.
…I had come home…

Cooking Tutorial

Naija:
There were many strange ingredients to be found in the waters of Aquaria.
By cooking them together with the verse, I could create new foods.
Some of my recipes proved to be very useful.

The Song Cave

Entering The Song Cave

In these ancient ruins, lay the untold histories of Aquaria.
With exploration and preserverence, I would rediscover long lost knowledge.

Finding the Ancient Door

The ancient door stood tall and resolute.
It was ornately decorated with swirling patterns.
But did not provide an obvious means for opening.
I would have to search these waters to find its secret.

Discovering the Crystal

The crystal was not like the others I had encountered.
In its depths, I could sense the presense of something… Alive.
I was compelled to move closer.
[touches crystal, spirit comes out]
In a brilliant flash, an odd creature had emerged from the crystal.
Her gaze penetrated my soul, and though she did not speak…
I could hear her words echoing inside my head, as clear as the waters around me…
… It was beautiful.
Glimpses of her memories flashed in my mind, and threatened to overwhelm me…
I closed my eyes, and felt for one brief moment…
…That I was connected to all of history.
When I opened them again, the creature was gone.

[learned the bind song]
From the imprisoned soul, I inherited a new song.
By binding the verse around physical objects…
… I would be able to move them through the waters with ease.

ENERGY TEMPLE

[entering temple]
Pulling the obsruction aside, I glided forward…
… Peering into the cavernous depths.
No matter my hesitations,
I would have to continue into this darkness.

Gained Energy Form

Where blood had flowed through me, now ran a stream of pure power.
A new passion enthralled me.
My mind reeled at the dark gift I was granted.
If I sang the song of this deceased god…
I would become… a being of pure energy.
In this form I could sense the lines of energy that flowed throughout the waters.
Using my mind as a flint, I could spark a projectile…
… That would leap towards anything that dared impede my progress.

Form Changing Tutorial

I discovered that in the Energy Form, I could not call out in song.
To return, I would have to focus my energy inward…

Krotite Vision

[After defeating the beast at the end of the Energy Temple]
As the creature fell, I sensed a presence reach into my mind…
…Another vision began.
A race, known as the Krotites, had built this temple to worship this fallen god.
They'd honored raw power above anything else.
Unlike the spirit I'd encountered in the crystal, these people had no interest in creation.
They reveled in destruction.
Their lust for power led not only to the downfall of their civilization…
… But also the destruction of another.
Now… this destructive power simmered within me.

Chapter 2: Act 2

Chapter Summary

Open Waters, Mithalas, Kelp Forest, The Veil

Chapter Notes

In which Naija explores newly opened waters, gains more strange powers of dead gods, and meets a new companion.

See the end of the chapter for more notes

Open Waters

Entering Open Waters

The rush of new waves greeted my ears as I glided into undiscovered waters.
Though a chapter of my life had ended, my journey was far from over.

Discovering Fallen Statue

I discovered a fallen statue of a race that resembled my own.
Though it had colapsed from many years of decay, it still marked the way to those that had built it.
Perhaps if I followed, I would find more of my kind.

Energy Temple

Reading Entrance Tablet

A fractured tablet lay nearby - I stared at it…
…and though I didn't understand how, I could read what it said.
This had been a city called Mithalas.
An entire city, in ruin…
… were there no survivors?

Entering Throne Room

I had glided into the chambers of a former ruler…
From what I could gather from a nearby portrait, this room belonged to a young prince of Mithalas.
Were these people my ancestors?
Or did I merely wish - desperately - to be one of them.

Entering Princess's Room

The princess of Mithalas had lived here.
I wondered if I'd been here once upon a time.
I fancied myself ruling here in ages past -
with a faithful prince at my side.

Entering First Flesh Tunnel

The twisted, disgusting creatures swam ungainly towards me.
In their shallow eyes I saw only a hunger for flesh.
With horror, I realized the resembled the fallen statue that had led me here.

Entering Corrupted Cathedral

Sickly red veins ran throughout this ancient cathedral.
Where hopeful believers had once come to rejoice,
foul monsters now thrived

Killed Final Core

I killed the final rotted core of this wretched cathedral,
And tears welled up in my eyes.

With every creature I destroyed - every ancient being I put to rest,
I felt a part of myself slip away.
It was not only that I had caused the destruction…
… but that i had …
… enjoyed it.
I feared this nightmare would never end, and I would be drawn into a spiral of dementia.
Perhaps I would never find my family, but there had to be someone…
…Someone to keep me from the darkness.

Mithalan Vision

[After Defeating Mithala]
Mithalas… As it once was…
A grand city built by a noble people, and watched over by a royal family.
They were all children of a god named Mithala.
The Mithalans immortalized their god's noble visage in stone,
and built many statues honoring him throughout Aquaria.
For hundreds of years, the city of Mithalas stood strong…
…Providing its inhabitants with long, fulfilling lives.
If only the vision had ended there…
If only every mithalan had been noble…
With the comforts and safety of the city, came a new calling… eternal life.
The Mithalan Priests, who acted as Mithala's mouthpiece, saw the coming of a greater god.
A creator, who had designed and given life to each of the gods.
A creator that would eventually destroy their entire race, as he had many others.
The priests delved deeper into the hidden secrets of the verse to escape the bonds of mortality.
But the powerful magic they discovered came with a high cost.
They bound Mithala in chains.
And began drawing out his life force to power their song.
They executed "heretics" one by one.
Forcing Mithala to feast… upon his own children.
Mithala began to change.
His mind sank into the simple, dull anger of a beast.
Eventually, he stopped shedding tears as he ate.
The hunger had consumed him.
The rot inside of Mithala's heart grew. His body became bloated and deformed.
His flesh began to spread throughout the city, polluting the waters.

Drask, the Prince of the Mithalans had seen his family die at the hands of the priests and their mutated disciples.
He confronted the priests, and though he could not prevent their escape, he did discover their secrets.
I wondered if he still lived somewhere… beyond this world.

Talking to Mithala

The vision began to fade, Mithala's spirit was departing.
For the first time I tried to reach out… to communicate…

Naija:
Oh great Mithala! I need your help…

Mithala:
Naija… I am dying now…
It is my time to rest…

Naija:
You have suffered so much, but I must ask a favor of you.

Mithala:
Speak quickly, little one…
For I do not have much longer…

Naija:
Wh-who am I?

Mithala:
You are the child of the thirteenth.
You are the one who will unite the waters of aquaria.
You will restore the balance of nature.
And you will find love, Naija.
You have so much to see, and you will become so much.
There will be great pain…
… But I have faith that you will triumph in the end.
Take heart, little one.

Naija:
…Thank you…

Mithala:
It is growing cold, now…
You have freed my spirit at last…
…Now… Little Naija… take my form…

…And journey… To the land of the light…

Gaining Beast Form

In beast form, my strong animal legs allowed me passage through powerful currents.
And my sharp, jagged teeth, provided invaluable for devouring my prey.

Gaining Spirit Form

[After defeating the priests]
After singing the song of the spirit form,
I would detach from my mortal frame - and enter a land between the living and the dead.
Thankfully, I could only hold this form for brief distances -
I did not wish to linger in that cold world long.

Kelp Forest

Entering Kelp Forest

Never before had I encountered such a lush environment.
Countless diverse creatures flowed between the tall stalks of kelp.
I could not help but be awed by the infinite beauty of the natural world.

Gaining Fish Form

By entering the fish form, I became one with the simple creatures of Aquaria.
I could swim past some of my enemies without detection,
And navigate small passageways with ease.

Druniad Vision

The druniads lived in peace for many years, living in harmony with nature…
…Until one day, without warning,
they experienced true fear for the first time.
A greater god, one with immense power, was ashamed of his creations.
Through anguished tears, he screamed out, tearing the druniads apart in his turmoil.
Though he slaughtered their entire race, he could not bear to kill their mother…
…And so, I had come to inherit her power.

Gaining Nature Form

Bark encased my skin, and moss sprouted from my back and head.
In this form, the natural world whispered to me…
…And I could feel the promise of creation stirring within.

Forest Sprite Cave

The forest nymphs rested, for their mother had imparted her gift to me.
Now they sang a sweet melancholic verse.
“Summer’s passion fades to Fall, and with Fall comes the hope of Winter."

At the time I had no idea what it meant.

The Veil

Entering the Veil

These bright waters were warm and terrifying.
The thought occured to me that I'd reached the end of the world.
What if all that awaited me was a blazing inferno?
Though my mind was terrified…
…my heart longed to venture further.

Crossing The Veil

The first taste of air, the warm embrace of the sun on my back…
…The wind flowing beneath me…
… I'd crossed through the veil.
For too many years I'd been smothered beneath the surface, blind to the beauty of Terra.

Meeting Li

I'd finally cornered the strange looking creature...
He tried to flee from me again, but my curiosity was too great to allow his escape.
[Naija moves closer]
He seemed to be trapped in this odd looking shell…
…Perhaps if I removed it…
[Naija sings to remove Li's shell, he clutches at his throat and starts to drown]
I was surprised to find that underneath this boy's shell…
He had a face not unlike my own.
A face that seemed… familiar…
Without knowing what I was doing,
I floated forward, pressing my lips against his.
A tune lept to my throat - one embedded deep within my memory.
The verse flowed through me…
…And bound itself around us.
Hours, days… perhaps seconds passed.
I'd lost all concept of time.
There was only the verse… and…
Li.
His name rang in my head. This creature was called Li.

We were so similar, and yet - not. I was intrigued.
The Verse waned slowly…
…And we drifted apart until there was nothing but water between us.
Li gazed at me through half closed eyes.
He seemed at peace…
My mind faded…
[Naija wakes up on the floor of Li's cave]
Slowly, I awoke… For a moment I had no idea where I was.
Li returned, and I remembered…
It was odd to think that I was the only person left alive.
I was aware of every flaw in my appearance - I felt exposed.
Color rose to my cheeks and I struggled to hid my shame.
My connection to Li allowed him to exist within the waters without his awkward shell.
It had also given him a new appetite for the creatures of the water.
[Li offers Naija a fish. they go to eat fish together on beds of moss]
As he ate, I could tell he was excited with his new abilities.
We realized that we'd both ventured out to find answers…
We left that place knowing that together,
We would be able to explore further than either of us could on our own.
For the first time in all my memory…
… I was not alone.

Lumerian Vision

[After beating the boss at the end of the Sun Temple]
The Lumerians had left the waters of their birth…
…For the bright, warm currents of the Veil.
Awed by their new surroundings,
Many of them came to worship the great sphere of light, known as "Sun"
With their adventurous spirit, came new ingenuity.
They learned to design elaborate mechanisms…
…To survive in the foreign environment.
The god who bore them grew jealous of this sacrilege…
…And in a blind rage…
… destroyed them all.

Gaining Sun Form

In the sun form, I gained the ability to focus the verse into rays of light…

…bringing clarity to shadowed depth.

Chapter End Notes

Which order do you like to explore the zones in? I went with Mithalas -> Kelp Forest -> The Veil for the sake of the transcript, but I also like to imagine Naija & Li exploring the Kelp Forest together before diving into The Abyss. (and in my first playthrough, I just went straight to the Kelp Forest!)

Chapter 3: Act 3

Chapter Summary

The Abyss, The Body, The End

Chapter Notes

In which Naija & Li brave the depths of The Abyss, discover the truth of Aquaria's creation, and end their story together.

The Abyss

Entering the Abyss

Many deadly creatures lay waiting in the darkness of the Abyss.
It would take a great deal of courage to proceed without a source of light.

Entering Sunken Ruins

Li was particularly excited by these ruins…
…It was as if he recognized them.
They did not look like the work of Aquarians.
I suspected that they were from beyond the Veil.
Perhaps Li's world was destroyed as well…

Following Ghost Child

[They find a ghost child crying, and then follow him through the ruins]

[The child enters a dark cave]
The ghostly child slipped away from me into the shadows.
I felt that he must have known the path to the heart of these ruins…
…but he was afraid.
I would have to lead him out of the darkness.
[Naija uses her Light Form to lead the ghost boy out. A ghostly form of his mother is on the other side, and begins to sing]

[The ghost child cries at the base of a dead tree. A ghost girl stands nearby in a patch of flowers. Naija uses her Nature Form to create a trail of flowers, leading the girl to the boy. She strokes his head, and he runs off again]

[Ghosts of other children are throwing rocks at the ghost child. A deep laugh is heard, and the other children turn into monsters. Naija defeats them with her energy form.]

[Naija sings the mother's song to open a door further into the ruins]

[Naija drops rocks at the boy's feet and he turns them into a statue of a woman with fins for ears. Two monsters appear]

Defeating the Monsters

From the fallen body of the monsters rose two spirits:
A father… and a mother…
It was then that ---
[A portal appears, along with that same deep laughter. A tentacle emerges from it and wraps around Li, pulling him in. Naija calls his name after him.]
Just like that… After so much…
I was alone again.
I felt empty… hopeless…
For a moment - I considered giving up. What was the use?
But that feeling gave way to a boiling anger.
Though it scared me to have such thoughts,
I knew that I would hunt down that dark creature…
…And kill it.
I would not be alone again.

[The ghost child follows Naija to the end of the ruins, and points the way forward into The Body]

The Body

[Li is imprisoned in a chamber inside the body]

Gathering Spirits

[Prince crystal]
The spirit of the Prince of Mithalas…

[Krotite crystal]
The spirit of a Krotite warrior…

[Erulian Crystal]
The spirit of an Erulian Messenger…

[Druniad Crystal]
The spirit of a Druniad from the Kelp Forest…

[After gathering the spirits, they help Naija shatter Li's prison]

Gained Dual Form

In Dual Form, Li and I would bond together to become one new being.
Our combined form had two sides, and by using each side properly -
We could unleash a devastating attack.

Meeting The Creator

He spoke…
…And his voice was forever burned into my memory…
…In perfect…
…Detail…

Creator:
Your darkness is mine, little one.
Your life is mine.
I created all that you have witnessed…
…And though you have struggled and fought…
…It is all for nothing.
This world is my canvas.
I will paint upon it whatever I see fit,
Until I have completed my… masterpiece.
You, little Naija, are flawed.

But you come from one who is -
Perfection.
You will be my companion for the rest of eternity.
You will have the honor of witnessing my final masterpiece.

Naija:
But I am a concious being, with my own hopes and desires…
…I do not belong to you.

Creator:
Yet it all sprang from my mind - my efforts!
Ungrateful one!
Bow before me and worship your creator!

Naija:
No, I will not.
I have lived free… I've explored beyond -

Creator:
You have been allowed to play in my world.
Now your turn is over.
You will love me, and nothing else.

Naija:
But have you ever truly loved?
Has anyone ever willfully loved you?

Creator:
YOU LOVE AN ABERRATION!
A FOUL SYMBOL OF CHAOS!

Naija:
Why does such a small creature frighten you so?
Perhaps you're not as powerful as you claim.
Perhaps… You can only control what lies in the water.

Creator:
FOOL!
I am a… GOD!

Naija:
Perhaps you dream to be…
…But I will never worship you.

Creator:
Then…

You must die.

Defeated The Creator

Child:
On that day…
…Everything changed…
Everyone I ever loved was taken away in an instant…
I should have died with them…
Instead I was brought back.
The spirit that gave me life stayed inside me.
It became a part of me
I had so much power…
I could create anything I desired.
I was so lonely… so I tried to make friends…
…But they had minds of their own…
…It made me jealous…
…I wanted to feel loved again…
I remembered the time I felt the happiest…
My mother's song…
So simple.. So beautiful…
I could never remember the chorus…
Only the Verse…
…It haunted me…
I tried to get rid of the song…
But it only spread through everything I made.
So I tried to make her…
She was so beautiful in my mind…
…But the ones I brought back were never the same.
…Until I made Mia…
…But she was too perfect…
…She left me… and she made you…
There are still many things you don't know Naija…
…You may still be able to find her…
There's been so much anger… so much beauty…
…For hundreds of years…
…But it all feels like a dream…
…I think it's time to stop dreaming now…
…Sing me to sleep…
…Sing to me like she did…

[Naija and Li pick themselves off the floor and leave The Body. Life returns to different parts of Aquaria]

Epilogue

As the waters flowed past me, I could feel my mind sinking away from adventure…
…to a husband…
…to a family…
Though my long journey was complete, and the world restored to the balance of nature…
…I could not help but be drawn back, time and again…
…To the vivid memories of my adventures.
The strange and marvelous places I had visited…
…The fantastic creatures I had encountered…
…And the spirits I had freed.
Perhaps a part of me still lingered in the past…
…Floating amongst the shadows of forgotten ages.
I longed for the feeling of discovering new waters…
…Striving for a destination that lay just beyond the next wave.
It would never come again.

Secret Ending

[Mia appears in her shadowy form, then casts it aside and reveals herself]
Mia:
Naija… you've finally arrived.

Naija:
Finally? Who are you?
M-mother?

Mia:
I have a name you know.
Mia, he used to call me.
His perfect little creation.

Naija:
Mother… I…

Mia:
Shhh… Come here…

[Mia and Naija embrace]

Mia:
Quiet now. All is well. He's dead.

Naija:
I-I killed him. But he was just a little boy!

Mia:
Little boys are trouble, Naija.

Naija:
I searched so long to find you…
…Why didn't you tell me who you were?

Mia:
Oh Naija you silly girl. I always knew where you were.
I was the one that wiped your memory.

Naija:
What… why?

Mia:

It's quite simple.
You never would have become what you are now if I hadn't.

Naija:
What I am now… I'm a mother. A mother with a family!

Mia:
Hmmhmm… Naija Naija… You're in love with a human…
One could hardly call a human a real person.
No, no… you and I are meant for greater things my child.
A mother… hah.

Naija:
Let me go.

Mia:
Oh no my dear…
What would you do? Spend the rest of your life underwater?
Burping babies and changing diapers?
It's time we rose above it all, my child.
There are much greater worlds above ripe for the taking.
With our power combined… We'll be unstoppable.

Naija:
Mia, I'm done. I'm done with fighting, I'm done with killing…
I just want to go back to my family!

Mia:
Heheheh… Silly girl.
You crave adventure. If you didn't, you wouldn't have ended up here.
Constantly searching, seeking out answers and killing…
It's what you do my dear.

Naija:
No. Let me go back… Let me go!

Mia:
Oh… there, there.
It'll probably be easier for me if I remove your conciousness for a time.
Ah, there we are.
We wouldn't want anyone tracing any more of your memories now…
…would we…
There's a good girl…

[Naija's son views her memories via a crystal, and sets off in a flying ship to find her]

Chapter 4: Bonus

Chapter Notes

> As a bonus, here's my best efforts at transcribing the songs "Lost to the Waves" and "Fear the Dark". While neither song is in the game itself, they're both a part of Aquaria's official soundtrack. You can listen to them both on Bandcamp, here: https://infiniteammo.bandcamp.com/album/aquaria-original-soundtrack

See the end of the chapter for more notes

Lost to the Waves

Lost at the heart of sea
Memories drift away
The past but a shade
Lost to the waves

My journey here
A lifetime ago
And all that I was
Is lost to the waves

Lost at the heart of sea (lost to the sea)
Memories drift away (they sit there [?])
The past but a shade (past but a shade)
Lost to the waves (lost to the waves)

My journey here (my journey)
A lifetime ago (lifetime ago)
And all that I was (all that I was)
Is lost to the waves

Fear The Dark

Lost to the memory
Of a perfect soul
Deep in the shadows
Of unrelenting wounds
Can't disappear
Inside a dream
When pain opens up your heart

You can fear the dark
And hope for the light
When you feel the pain inside
You can cry out loud and pray for the dawn
You'll find yourself in newborn eyes
And burn away the foolish lies
Of love

You can't remember
Who you are
When you wake up
Alone in the dark
The love you felt
So far away
Fled from the darkness of your soul

You can fear the dark
And hope for the light
When you feel the pain inside
You can cry out loud
And pray for the dawn
You'll find yourself in newborn eyes
And burn away the foolish lies
Of love
Love, love

We were always meant to be
So you believed
Love would never ever end
Only a fool would watch as the stars
Faded into winter snow
Touched by the tears
Of falling angels screaming out

For one more chance
To feel first love again
Cursed with the memory of her breath

In the dark
In the light
In the cold heart beating out
To find
True love

In the cold
In the heat
In the fear that tomorrow never holds
True love

In the dark (Lost at the heart of sea)
In the light (Memories drift away)
In the memories loving her in dreams (The past a shade)
Of true love (Lost to the waves)
You're a fool (My journey here)
You're a saint
You are everything and nothing we lost (Lifetime ago)
True love (Lost to the Waves)
(All that I know)

Every time you
Keep on crying
Hope is dead

Yes we had love once
Yes we had joy once
Yes we had light once
And we were one once
Yes we were young once
Yes we were fools once
Yes we had love once

You were my whole world
You were my true friend
You were my light and dark
You were my everything

You took from me my life
You took from me my worth
You took from me my death

Now I am nothing but

An empty soul
In darkness crawling out
An empty soul
That once felt love

An empty soul
In darkness spiraled out
The lies and dreams we shared
The key was in ourselves

If I can trust myself
If I can heal our world
If I can free the bonds of love

Then we can kill the ghost
That haunts us everywhere
The ghost of love that never loved
The ghost of love that never loved

Fear the dark
And hope for the light
When you feel the pain inside
You can cry out loud
And pray for the dawn
You'll find yourself in newborn eyes
And burn away the foolish lies
Of love
Of love

Of love
